[Correspondence of the Ri.hmond Dispatch.] NORFOLK, June 15, 1888.

Nonvolk, June 15, 1888.

The United States steamers Despatch and Atlanta, of the North Atlantic squadron, arrived at the navy-vard this morning and are taking on coal and provisions. Other ships will be up from Hampton Roads to-morrow for the same purpose.

The United States steamer Swatara, bound for Brazil, came up to the navy-yard this morning from Hampton Roads and was placed in the dry-dock to have her bottom scraped and painted. She sails next Wednesday on a three years' cruise.

The intense heat of summer has succeeded the cool spell here and the season o, sudatory discomfort is now strongly developed. There discomfort is now strongly developed. There discomfort is now strongly developed. There seems to be unusual fatality attending the diseases of small children just at this time, and as the weather grows warmer it will doubtless be largely increased. The tendency of travel to the seashore is heavy to-day.

The Norfolk County and Portsmouth Ferry management are contemplating a schedule to run the seamers all night.

The cablege shipments of the truckers are improving in prace and the prospect in market for the rest of the produce from the truckfarms seems good and gives promise of remunerative prices. What Irish polataces are left in the fields will probably do well, as they are now bringing 23 a barrel.
